

WARNING! Midwest Flash Drought Predicted

Flash Drought Declared by Climatologist

NEWS FLASH: An unseasonal quick burst of dry heat is stressing plants throughout the Midwest. The high winds, low humidity and lack of significant rainfall are of particular concern on new plantings made last fall and this spring. A good soaking twice weekly is recommended to help plantings through this stressful period. We want your plantings to be successful.

Lower Big Blue Natural Resources District
